

Certified Phlebotomy & EKG Program

IN PERSON Program Overview

This accredited program is designed for anyone looking to get into phlebotomy OR becoming an EKG TECH and is a great stepping stone to start in the medical field. Whether you have past experience in the field or not, you will be guided every step of the way. With in person classes and online options, you can contact me at any time throughout the entire program.

In Person Program Cost

The cost of the in person EKG or phlebotomy program is $675, making it one of the most affordable certified programs in Orlando. If you cannot pay in full, a minimum of $350 is required before the start of the program. Certification and completion of the course cannot be achieved until the program is paid for in full.

Online Version Cost

Price: The cost of the online version of the EKG or PHLEBOTOMY program is $575. If you cannot pay in full, a minimum $300 is required before the start of the program. Payment plans will be made thereafter until the program is paid in full. You will still need to attend hands on training in class. Certification and completion of the course cannot be achieved until the program is paid full.

Online Version Work Assignments

All assignments, quizzes, & tests will be completed online. Power points will be delivered via email. The power points are simplified so you are not overwhelmed with excessive pages of reading materials.

Quizzes & test will be sent out once you complete the power point module. You are still required to attend hands on training. You will also receive a study guide for the National State exam once you complete the program.

Bundle Price

If you decide to take both the phlebotomy and EKG program there is a bundle price.

Online bundle price: $1,000

In person bundle price: $1,200

Clinicals

During the program you will be required to attend hands on training classes. During clinicals you will be practicing venipuncture procedures, capillary punctures, venipuncture with the manikin arm, and one on one interaction and lecture on lab practices and any other questions you would like to go over during that time. Clinicals are done in the classroom and you can come into hands on training as many weeks as you would like for extra practice and experience.

Certification

Once you have completed the program with a passing grade and have attended all clinicals, you will receive a certification of completion and be considered a certified phlebotomist/EKG TECH. After you have received your certification, it is highly recommended that you sign up to take the national certified test to receive your license. You are able to get a position as a phlebotomist/EKG TECH with your certification, however it is recommended that you obtain your license as it is preferred by certain employers.

License

After completion of the program and certification is obtained, you are eligible to sign up to take the National Phlebotomy Certification Examination through AMT. You are eligible to sign up for the national exam after the program. The instructor will assist and prepare you for the national exam.

Certificate of Acknowledgement

This certificate issued by American Medical Technologists (AMT) acknowledges that applicants completing programs from the below-listed institution are eligible to sit for the corresponding certification exam.
